ABOUT THE DIRECTOR

CLACIA YOUNG — Nearly 2 years ago Clacia joined the NFCT and was promptly put to work as prop girl for "Pajama Game". She then moved downstage in the difficult role of Mrs. Carswell in the mystery melodrama "The Mousetrap". In addition to directing to-night's production she also directed last seasons hit comedy, "Blithe Spirit" for the NFCT and appeared on stage in a bit role in this season's drama, "The Potting Shed". The mother of 5 children she lives in Riverhead.

ABOUT THE PRODUCER

SYLVIA SHAFFRAN — A resident of Riverhead is interested in all phases of the theatre. A very active member of the NFCT she has performed in "Separate Tables", "Pajama Game", "Kiss Me Kate" and "Call Me Madam". She directed a workshop production of Noel Cowards, "Hands Across the Sea", and has also directed special productions for local groups in Riverhead and Baiting Hollow.

ABOUT THE CAST

(In order of their appearance)

JACK GRAVES (Bob McKellaway) — A graduate of Hill Prep. Potstown, Pa., his acting talent was recognized early. He played a wide range of roles including Hamlet, Greenwald, the lawyer in "Caine Mutiny" and Charley in "Where's Charley". Graduated from Yale University in 1962, he joined the Armed Forces and served as a member of the renowned Green Berets in Okinawa. Doubling in two bit parts, Jack demonstrated his comic flair in this season's NFCT production of "Call Me Madam". Associated with Arthur Penny and Associates of Riverhead, he does reporting for the Long Island Press, News-Review and other local weekly papers. He lives in Jamesport and is an eligible bachelor.

CATHY BARBER (Tiffany Richards) — is a resident of Southold, married to a Plum Island scientist and the mother of 3 children. Although her only previous theatrical experience was a bit part in "Call Me Madam", Cathy loves the theatre and we are sure we shall see more of her in the future.

FREDERICK NEWELL (Oscar Nelson) — one of the most respected members of the NFCT, Fred's last appearance on the stage was as the pompous Senator Norval Hedges in "Born Yesterday" in 1961. Of course, Fred was not inactive in the intervening 5 years. Drawing on his long experience with the Comedy Club of New York, he used his talent in directing the NFCT productions of "Glass Menagerie", "The Hasty Heart" and "Critic's Choice" plus acting in and directing several workshop productions. A retired executive for Blue Cross he resides with his wife, Audrey, in Laurel.

JACK MOFFAT (Dirk Winston) — a native of Southold, Jack needs no introduction. But we must say that no one in the group has appeared in such a variety of roles, each one stamped with his professionalism and individuality. To mention a few at random he was Danny, the murderer in "Night Must Fall", Bat Masterson, the gambler in the musical, "Guys and Dolls", the unhappy Major Pollock in "Separate Tables" and the beleaguered husband of two wives in "Blithe Spirit". When not on stage, Jack has been active in every phase of the theatre. An accomplished singer and pianist, he has directed all NFCT musical productions. He spent his vacation last summer in writing the book and music of a complete musical story for children entitled, "Peanut Butter Prince", which was presented at this theatre to capacity audiences.

GERTRUDE REYNOLDS (Mary McKellaway) — fast becoming a veteran performer for the NFCT. Gert came to us from the Nutley

ABOUT THE CAST (Continued)

(N. J.) Little Theatre where she was seen in "Cuckoos on the Hearth", "Berkeley Square" and "Letters to Lucerne". Last season she showed the North Fork her superb comic ability in the hit comedy, "Blithe Spirit". This season she demonstrated her drama ability in the difficult role of Sara Calliper in, "The Potting Shed". When not on stage Gert helps out with props and lighting. She and her family live in Mattituck.
