PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Welcome to our second production of the season. We hope that you find this production of "The Little Foxes" as enjoyable a theater evening as the audience found our first production of this year.

If you belong to an organization you may be interested in considering one of our offerings. For each production we provide benefit nights. Organizations may acquire large blocks of tickets at half price. These they then sell for full price. Many organizations have used this means to add to their treasuries in the past. If your organization is interested, contact the Ticket Chairman, Ann Detrich, 477-2121, for full details.

Again we hope you enjoy tonight's performance and we are looking forward to seeing you again at a performance of Jack Moffat's original musical review, "Jack In The Box".

WHO'S WHO IN THE CAST

WILHEMINA TAYLOR (Addie)—One of the fine things about doing this play was the fact that we gained three new young members. It is easy to see why youth seems to be so important today when you meet our three. Miss Taylor is one of them. She is a resident of Greenport, where she attends Greenport High School. This is her first part for the NFCT. But she has also done work with the NEW BREED BLACK TALENT WORKSHOP in Greenport. Welcome to the group.

LESTER SMITH (Cal)—Lester is another of our new young actors. He resides in Riverhead, and attends Riverhead High. We were more than lucky to find this young man, for he brings to the NFCT past experience of entertaining. He has had leading roles in "The Hustler" and "Dishonest John". He has also had roles in the musicals "West Side Story" and "Oklahoma". This year he will make his third appearance in the Riverhead Lions' Club annual variety show. His plans for the future include entering a school of music, and professional musical entertainment.

CLACIA YOUNG (Birdie Hubbard) Clacia is one of the people who make The NFCT the organization that it is. She sees no job as being too small or too large. She has done almost every job backstage that there is, many with little or no reward. As you may recall it was her fine directing that formed "The Absence of a Cello" for us. We sometimes get the feeling that although she enjoys being on the stage the directing end is really her first love. To be sure, whenever she says that she will direct we breathe a sigh of relief, for we are positive that the production will be polished. If you really want to know Clacia though, just ask her about one of her family, but be careful for when her eyes light up and she starts to beam you almost need sunglasses.

FROM THE NFCT TO OUR AUDIENCE

At this time we would like to ask a favor of you.

As you can see, we have had much success in our program advertisement. Although we do get revenue from you as an audience, we find that without the income from the program it would be quite difficult to put on enjoyable plays as well as improve our equipment to meet our ever growing needs. For example; this year we purchased new lighting equipment which cost almost $2000. This may sound expensive, but technical problems and safety considerations forced it. This is "COMMUNITY THEATRE" and now we are asking you, the community, to aid us. Please, look through our advertisers' ads; if you can, stop in and see what they can do to help you. We are sure that all of your needs can be satisfied by these people who are your neighbors, and — oh, yes please say that we sent you. Thank you.

DICK DRIES (Oscar Hubbard)—Dick was in our last production, and when we asked him to give us some information to put in this program he told us to just put in what we did before. He said that nothing had changed, and there wasn't much else. So . . . we'll just take this space to let you know how we feel about him. We are truly glad that he is back with us again, for it doesn't take much time to realize that Dick is one of our best. When he read at try-outs there was no question in the minds of the committee. He had the part. After watching with us tonight, we know that you will agree.

Clean, quiet and efficient as electric light . . . that's electric heat.

You don't have to store it or wait for it to be delivered. And since there's no soot, you'll find yourself painting much less often. That's just one of the ways electric heat saves you time and money.

For the first time you can dial the right temperature for each room, because you may have a thermostat for each room. It can be 65° in the kitchen and 72° in the baby's room at the same time.

JON RICHMOND (Leo Hubbard) — Since joining the NFCT a year ago, Jon has been involved with many aspects of our theatre — publicity, lighting, set construction, and Board of Directors. This is his second appearance on this stage, having first played Shep in last spring's production of "Bell, Book and Candle." Off stage, Jon is a Postdoctoral Research Fellow at Plum Island. He is the Scoutmaster of the Orient Boy Scout Troop and is an ardent amateur photographer. He and his wife, Anne, live in Orient.

MAUREEN MOFFAT (Regina Giddens) — Joined the NFCT in 1960. Since then she has been in two plays in summer stock and this is her eleventh role with the NFCT. She has also served as make-up artist in every production since 1961, has directed, produced, swept up, prompted, scrubbed, worked on props, sets, costumes and publicity. One of our lighting crew once said "It doesn't matter how poor the lighting is, when Maureen walks on the stage sparkles". That is how we all feel.

JOE ULRICH (William Marshall) — Joe is usually considered to be one of our members who is associated mainly with musicals. He has been in "Damn Yankees", "Pajama Game", "Kiss Me Kate", "She Loves Me" and who will forget our first production of "Peanut Butter Prince" when he played the King and the Dragon? Due to his business Joe is usually not available in the Fall or Spring when we put on our "straight" plays, but because of a rearrangement of our schedule we were finally able to get him in one. Now, we have still another reason for being happy about the schedule change.

MARILYN CORWIN (Alexandra) Our third new youthful member. One of the nice things about being an "old" member of the theatre is that when young members join they act with great respect to you. You just sort of realize that they are in awe of your great talents and abilities on stage. In the back of your mind though you know that it is more likely to be just plain respect for your great age. To say that Marilyn is a delight, and that she brings enthusiasm and charm to the group would be an understatement. A senior at Riverhead, this is her first appearance with the NFCT. We hope for many more.

JACK REED (Horace) We first saw Jack on stage in "The Gazebo", a production by the Orient Players. That was a completely enjoyable evening. Jack came from Seneca County in 1956 and we're glad he did. For the Orient Players, Jack has also been in "Sabrina", "Third Best Sport", "The Mouse that Roared", and he directed "Dirty Work At The Crossroads". For the NFCT he has been in "The Man Who Came To Dinner" and "Harvey". As you can see it has been a good while since Jack last appeared on our stage, but it is a pleasure to have him back.

We would like to depart a little from the usual format of this page and not talk specifically about the group as a whole. We are going to single out one individual instead.

We have in the group a gentleman. We mean that in every sense of the word. He is a man who is willing to pitch in and help in any way possible. He is the type who will take on those little nasty jobs that most of us would rather not do. A lot of us hams can't wait to get on stage, but he seems to be happy to just be a part of the group, although he has appeared on stage with us. At a party you can always count on him to be there enjoying himself, and in doing so he gives enjoyment to the rest of us. We would like to just express our feeling about him at this point. We are talking about one of our youngest members, Mr. Artemus Ward.

ABOUT THE DIRECTOR

We usually take a great deal of time and write many nice things about our directors, for goodness knows they are a special type of people. To some of us, Ruth Becker is about the most special. More than her abilities, and talents, more than her willingness to work, more than her enthusiasm at all things, she is a true friend. It takes very little time to realize that fact, but it would take for ever to forget her and what she has done. To some of us the word nice means Ruth Becker. Other than the theater, most of her time is spent with the new vocational training center for the retarded. We feel that nothing more need be said.

BOB ACKROYD

Bob and his family moved to the North Fork from New Jersey last September. He has been active in the theater since his college days, and most recently with the Somerset Playmakers in his home state. There he appeared in "Never Too Late", "Bus Stop", "Mary, Mary", "The Crucible" and "Come Blow Your Horn". He directed "Picnic" and several one-acters, and was a producer and stage manager as well.

Bob and his wife, Cindy, who designed the set for this production, live in Mattituck with their four children, two of whom have already made their stage debuts as Okinawan children in "Teahouse Of The August Moon". Bob is Director of Marketing for Long Island Oyster Farms, Inc.

DICK NELSON

Vice President of Operations for Long Island Oyster Farms, Inc., in Greenport, Dick has only recently discovered his talents and aptitude for the theater. Possessor of a fine tenor voice, he made his stage debut last year in the NFCT production of "She Loves Me" in the lead male role, to the delight of the audiences.

Dick has also demonstrated his theatrical ability backstage in a key position on the production crew for "Peanut Butter Prince". Always willing to branch out into new areas, this is his first time as a producer, and we expect to see him in a variety of roles, both on and off stage in the future.

If you enjoyed tonight's play why not consider becoming a subscriber to the NFCT for the rest of the season? Ask any member about the benefits connected with a subscription, or leave your name and address with the box office or an usher and we will mail the information to you.
