North Fork Community Theatre

Presents

THE HOUSE ON THE CLIFF

by George Batson

October 1988

The 1988-89 slate of plays gives the NFCT audiences a great diversity in entertainment (HOUSE ON THE CLIFF, PHILADELPHIA STORY, STALAG 17, PROMISES, PROMISES, BEAUTY AND THE BEAST). This slate provides a wonderful opportunity for those who would like to be a part of the theatre productions. I encourage those of you who would like to be up on stage or work behind the scenes to let your intentions be known. The NFCT is always in need of volunteers to keep vitality in our performances. This is a great year to get involved!

BIOGRAPHIES

Art Wilks (Dr. Lane) A long time ago Art learned that supporting roles are not only easier but more fun. He usually tries for a comedy part but likes to do a dramatic character such as Dr. Lane because of the challenge. He had a great time in "Kiss Me Kate" and hopes you have a great time with "House On The Cliff." Again he thanks Sally for her support.

Pamela Barney (Ellen Clayton) Pam can't seem to stay away from the stage long enough to get her house clean! She's been involved in four productions here at NFCT. The last as Lilly Vanessi/Kate in "Kiss Me Kate." She's also worked back stage on many shows. Pam is also an active member of the Orient Point Players where she recently portrayed Jane Kimball in their production of "Kind Sir." Being interested in all aspects of the theatre, assistant to the director is the next cap she'll don when the group's next play opens in April at Poquatuck Hall. Portraying Ellen Clayton has given Pam an added insight into the world of the physically challenged.

Sarah Osei (Jenny) A newcomer to NFCT, originally from Georgia, a licensed cosmetologist PCA & Nurses Aide also a licensed Real Estate Salesperson. Except for everyday life and job performances did creative dancing on stage during high school days to the sounds of "Sunny Side of the Street," "I Believe" and many others. Held various parts in school plays. I'm very happy to be involved with the NFCT.

Maureen Sullivan (Karen Clayton) New to the NFCT, Maureen's last performance was in 1970 when she starred in her 6th grade class performance of Peter Pan. Her passions include organic gardening, stencilling, skiing and rustic living. Presently she resides in East Marion with her husband John Cadwallader and their three sons: Adrien, Andrew and Garrett.

Kendal Kelly (Miss Pepper) Having been kindly received in her first role (Kind Lady) at NFCT earlier this year, Kendal volunteered to move scenery backstage in "Kiss Me Kate." The theatre critic praised those on stage and panned the stage crew! So guess where Kendal is in this production: onstage.

Kerry McNally (Dr. Corey Phillips) Aside from waking up with thousands of different women every morning all over the East End, Kerry loves to write comedy, HAH! This will be his fourth production at NFCT.

Dick Keogh (Director) This is Dick's second venture at holding the baton. His first was "Death Trap," and he again is drawn to the mystery genre. Perhaps this is due to reading too many "Will Justice Triumph" stories in the Sunday Daily News. Dick is a former president of the NFCT and is currently Site Director of the Hallockville Museum Farm.

Judy Utter (Producer) A voice on the phone, a face on the stage now and then. She's been involved for 18 years. Time to retire.

The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that every entry, no matter how small, should be recorded to ensure the integrity of the financial statements. This includes not only sales and purchases but also expenses, income, and any other financial activity.

The second part of the document provides a detailed breakdown of the accounting cycle. It outlines the ten steps involved in the process, from identifying the accounting entity to preparing financial statements. Each step is explained in detail, with examples provided to illustrate the concepts.

The third part of the document discusses the various types of accounts used in accounting. It categorizes accounts into assets, liabilities, equity, revenue, and expense accounts. It also explains how these accounts are used to record transactions and how they are balanced at the end of each period.

The fourth part of the document discusses the importance of adjusting entries. It explains how these entries are used to ensure that the financial statements reflect the true financial position of the company at the end of the period. Examples are provided to show how adjusting entries are recorded and how they affect the accounts.

The fifth part of the document discusses the preparation of financial statements. It outlines the steps involved in preparing the balance sheet, income statement, and statement of owner's equity. It also discusses the importance of providing a clear and concise explanation of the financial results.

The sixth part of the document discusses the importance of internal controls. It explains how these controls are used to prevent errors and fraud, and to ensure the accuracy and reliability of the financial information. Examples are provided to show how internal controls are implemented in a business.

The seventh part of the document discusses the importance of ethics in accounting. It explains how accountants are expected to act in a fair and honest manner, and to follow the principles of professional conduct. Examples are provided to show how ethical decisions are made in the accounting profession.

The eighth part of the document discusses the importance of communication in accounting. It explains how accountants must be able to communicate effectively with others, both inside and outside the organization. Examples are provided to show how communication is used in the accounting profession.

The ninth part of the document discusses the importance of technology in accounting. It explains how the use of computers and other technology has revolutionized the accounting profession, and how accountants must stay up-to-date on the latest developments. Examples are provided to show how technology is used in accounting.

The tenth part of the document discusses the importance of continuous learning in accounting. It explains how accountants must constantly update their skills and knowledge to stay relevant in a rapidly changing profession. Examples are provided to show how continuous learning is achieved in the accounting profession.
