Workshop: The Actor's Craft

NFCT will offer an eight-week workshop for adults on Saturday afternoons, starting March 14th through May 2nd, from 1:00 to 4:30 p.m.

The intensive introductory program, led by Michael Manuelian (who, among many other credits, recently directed "Proof" at NFCT), will focus on four basic areas of the actor's training: Scene Study, Technique, Singing Interpretation and Vocal Production/Body Work. NFCT will offer the workshop for a nominal fee, sufficient to cover only out-of-pocket expenses incurred in connection with the class (e.g., electricity, heat, accompanist, etc.). Michael has graciously agreed to volunteer his services. Currently, NFCT estimates the actual costs to translate to $65 for each member of the workshop.

Michael's goal is to allow each member an opportunity to work each week. To that end, the workshop will be limited to 8–10 members who are willing to commit to attend all eight sessions. Please note that this workshop will require outside preparation.

If you are interested in joining the workshop and have a genuine appetite to learn in the company of fellow enthusiasts, please contact Michael directly at nfactorsworkshop@aol.com or at (631) 323-1385. All levels of experience will be welcome.
